

I do not support this petition for 2 reasons. First it still has a requirement for Morse code as part of the licensing structure. Morse code is only one of many operating modes and should not be a requirement for any license class. I support having some band segments reserved for CW. Currently Morse code only serves as a rite of passage and is seldom used by a majority of operators.

I see no advantage to keeping the question pools secret. The current testing methodology works well and needs no modification.

I do support digital experimentation in the 29.0-29.3 MHz range.
